

MEET PAUL COOKSON

'Every day should have a Paul Cookson moment in it.
Keep him by your bedside for emergencies'
- Simon Mayo

“Family Twist” with Paul Cookson

on

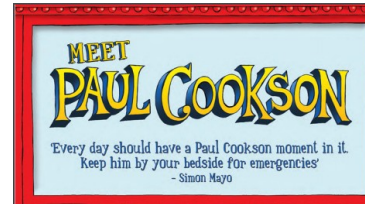

Friday 21 July at 4pm

Carterknowle Methodist Church
(Edgedale Road, Sheffield S7 2BQ)

Tickets: £1 adult / 50p child

Available from Oasis Café, Carterknowle Methodist Church, or email jphackett@blueyonder.co.uk

Refreshments will be provided

What better way to celebrate the start of the school summer holiday than with an afternoon of mirth and merriment.

Family Twist is the perfect family show where you (parents and children) become the show. Come along and do a poem, song, dance or sketch... play a tune or juggle with toilet rolls - compered by the incomparable Paul Cookson.

Paul Cookson has been a poet for over 25 years. During that time he has visited thousands of schools and festivals, performed all over the world, sold over a million books and learnt four chords on the ukulele. He is the official poet in residence at the National Football Museum, poet laureate for Slade and has received a National Reading Hero award.

His poem “Let no-one steal your dreams” has been adopted by numerous schools as their mission statement, school motto etc. and become a Year six leaver’s poem

Visit paulcooksonpoet.co.uk for more information about Paul Cookson

